SCHOOL EXAMINATION.-We spent very pleasant day, yesterday, in attending the examination of the Select School, taught by Miss Hooker and Miss Hough, in the basement of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. It is composed of about thirty eight Misses and twenty which was also adopted. young Masters. It was begun some eleven or twelve weeks ago, rather as an experiment than otherwise, and we are gratified in being able to state that the experiment seems to have proved a decided success. The School, of necessity, nations be made, which motion prevailed. is divided into a great many classes, on Accordingly Mr. G. McGebee, Mr. A. ing. The recitations were almost universally good. The scholars evideed a readiness, a self-possesssion and thoroughness of preparation that must have been as gratifying to their parents as it was creditable to the faithfulness and skill of their teachers. The classes in French pronounced, apparently-for not having any knowledge of the language, we cannot speak authoritatively-as if they had almost acquired that difficult part of the language, and were ready to go forward. The same fluency was also manifested in reading and translating The Algebra and Arithmetic classes Mr. Iglebart, which the latter gentleman tention was attracted by the sound of a Ferrans Attention.—On account of did exceedingly well.
